

I would like to support the ability of satellite radio broadcastors to disseminate local news and traffic reports. Please allow freedom of speech to prevail in this matter. The National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) is trying a very thinly veiled attempt to stifle competition by suppressing this constitutional right. This competition helps to serve the broader public good through giving consumers broader access to public information. Reducing competition rarely services the public good.

A much better approach for the members of the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) would be to provide better content and reduce advertising.

Please let Adam Smith's invisible hand help guide this process and not the iron fist of prohibitive legislation and regulation.

Respectfully submitted,
Karl Swensson
